publication of advertisements in High Court Reports 3

Serial No.

Associations will be required to pay for the printing work.

7 It would appear that the press authorities do not deal with the question of levying fees for publication of advertisements either official or private and that the respective Associations etc whose Journals or Reports are printed in the Govt press have the discretion ~~either to Charge~~ to levy the fees for advertisements sent for publication in their journals. It is understood that certain official* advertisements are not being charged for.

* Advertisements of Insurance companies

8 With regard to the question of publishing advertisements of legal publications, it is submitted that ~~of these advertisements are being~~ it is ascertained that only such of the advertisements as are sent by the High Court for insertion in the Law Journals etc are printed in the press, the question of levying fees for such advertisements being dealt with by the High Court.

advertisements other than the official ones be published except with the permission of the H. C in the High Court reports. This is suggested with a view to prevent undesirable advertisements appearing in such reports. This may be done as it is undesirable to publish objectionable things in the official reports
